CR 2002-010071

The Court intends to set a trial date and case schedule at the Scheduling Status Conference. Status Conferences will be presumptively set every thirty days. The Court may set conferences more or less frequently as circumstances dictate. The purpose of the conferences will be for the Court and counsel to establish deadlines for case activities to be accomplished in thirty day increments that can be reviewed at the next Status Conference.

Two (2) judicial days before each Status Conference the parties will be ordered to submit a Joint Statement of case status that will inform the Court of the specific progress made in the last thirty days toward the case activities previously established by Court and counsel, and which will propose specific case activities for the next thirty days. The parties will list in the Joint Statement of the case status the witnesses they have interviewed in the preceding month and those they will interview in the upcoming month. The Statement will update the Court on the status of the items listed above, including any discovery issues.

IT IS ORDERED affirming prior custody orders.

9:50 a.m. Matter concludes.
